Introduction & Mission

The Housing Opportunity Fund (HOF) understands that Pittsburgh is a place where people put down roots. Where vibrant neighborhoods and community connections flourish, but also where housing can struggle to remain affordable and accessible.

Connecting people to homes is essential to support and uplift Pittsburgh neighborhoods, as homeownership encourages people to stay longer, connect to their neighborhoods, take better care of their property, and revitalize disparaged areas. The HOF is a helping hand that funds home repairs, offers a warm handshake that welcomes someone to their first home, or offers assistance programs for partners who share in the common mission of ensuring Pittsburgh remains diverse and becomes affordable for all.

Zero interest loans and grants provided through the HOF make it possible to buy a house for the first time, or help existing homeowners make home repairs. The HOF also works hand-in-hand with partners to construct new affordable housing, and support existing affordable housing providers that need help keeping their communities vibrant, welcoming, and safe.

Pittsburgh is a mosaic of 95 neighborhoods that are each unique and full of character. The HOF is here to help support and enhance Pittsburgh neighborhoods by ensuring affordable housing is accessible, and helping existing homeowners remain in the homes and neighborhoods that mean so much to them.

The HOF understands the deep connections people have with their home, place, and community. Helping people buy a home or stay in a home not only helps support individuals, it also helps support the diverse, friendly, and vibrant city we call home.

Message from the Housing Opportunity Fund Director

In the book Evicted: Poverty and Profit in the American City, Matthew Desmond, a researcher from Harvard, follows eight households in Milwaukee as they struggle to keep and/or find affordable housing. Many of the families faced eviction due to the lack of supports in a housing system that often fails to help the country’s most economically vulnerable residents. In the book, once the families went through an eviction, it became much harder to get back on their feet and find stable, safe, and sanitary housing. This is why programs such as the ones operated by the Housing Opportunity Fund (HOF) are so drastically needed in this country and in the City of Pittsburgh. Through the HOF and other resources, the URA now operates a Housing Stabilization Program that helps people pay their rent for up to three months when faced with a situation where they lose their income. By giving Pittsburgh residents the ability to pay their rent prior to facing an eviction, the residents may be able to stay stably housed and keep their families healthy and safe.

Additionally, the HOF also funds a Homeowner Assistance Program where homeowners can receive loans and grants to repair their homes and stay in their homes for the long-term. The HOF also helps people buy their first home. Did you know that it is often more affordable to pay a monthly mortgage payment than monthly rent? Through the HOF Down Payment and Closing Cost Assistance Program, more people are now learning that they can indeed afford to buy their first home.

Finally, the HOF helps developers and nonprofits build more affordable rental and for-sale homes. By building more homes, the shortage of affordable units in the City is being reduced. If we keep building more affordable units, hopefully the City will get to a point where no one struggles to find affordable housing or has to experience an eviction. Hopefully, we’ll get to a point where affordable, safe, and sanitary housing is available to all and no one is left out.

The Housing Opportunity Fund (HOF) is a Housing Trust Fund that aims to increase and preserve the supply of safe and well-maintained affordable housing for low-income households in the City. Beginning with its adoption in 2018, the City of Pittsburgh is committing $10 million per year for 12 years to fund affordable housing programs and activities across the City.

HOF legislation states that funds must be allocated at specific Pittsburgh Area Median Income (AMI) levels. AMI levels are measures calculated by HUD that help determine the level of need for a family. AMI is adjusted every year to reflect changes in local income and inflation.

Per HOF legislation, 55% of funds must be allocated towards households at 30% AMI or below, 25% of funds must be allocated towards households at 50% AMI or below, and 25% of funds must be allocated towards households at 80% AMI or below.

The greatest strength of the HOF is its ability to keep people in their homes! In the news, you mostly see the URA doing things for businesses and companies, but they help the individual people that live here and need help, too. My wife grew up six doors down from where we live, and being able to stay in this community means a lot to us. We have deep connections and family history here, and we didn’t want to have to sell the house and move, and when we signed the paperwork for the loan, my wife cried. It was very meaningful for us.”

Rental Gap Program (RGP)
The RGP helps fund the creation of new affordable housing and/or preservation of existing affordable housing in the City of Pittsburgh. RGP loans are available to developers for the creation and/or preservation of affordable units. All development teams must include a nonprofit applicant. During 2019, HOF closed a total of four (4) RGP projects which resulted in the creation and/or preservation of 103 affordable rental units. Of the 4 projects that closed, two were also occupied in 2019: Parkview Manor and Riverview Towers.

For-Sale Development Program (FSDP)
The FSDP provides low interest rate construction financing and/or grants for the purpose of increasing the supply of affordable housing for homeownership. Upon completion, properties financed under the program must be sold to owner-occupants who are at or below 80% AMI. During 2019, a total of two (2) FSDP projects closed resulting in the creation and/or preservation of 7 affordable for-sale homes.

“Over the last year throughout the City of Pittsburgh, the Housing Opportunity Fund has prevented renters from being evicted, created affordable rental and for-sale housing, made it possible for people to buy their first homes, and funded repairs for homeowners who are in need of assistance. It’s a privilege to be on the advisory board of an organization having such a measurable impact on affordable housing in Pittsburgh.”

— Lena Andrews, HOF Advisory Board Member — Non-Profit Community Development Representative

Total Funding: $2,310,000

I am grateful for the opportunity to not only have voted to create the Housing Opportunity Fund, I appreciate serving on the Board because the URA has provided a lot of residents the opportunity to become homeowners, including in District 2. Across the entire city, the programs offered by the URA have enhanced the quality of life for our neighborhoods and our residents.”

— Pittsburgh City Council President, Theresa Kail-Smith
For the 2019 Annual Report, we talked with people impacted by our programs, and asked them to share their stories, experiences, and perspectives. And what we heard was compelling, thought-provoking, and heartwarming. People are at the heart of our program, and through their eyes we were able to see how the HOF impacts the everyday lives of Pittsburghers. First-time homeowners told us how challenging it can be to afford a home in Pittsburgh, and existing homeowners shared the heavy weight of making repairs to a beloved home that’s been in a family for generations. We also learned a little more about the real challenges of building beautiful and supportive affordable housing in a place that’s rapidly become more expensive for homebuilders committed to helping our most vulnerable Pittsburgh residents.

Housing Celebration and Resource Fair
On April 30, the URA hosted a Housing Celebration and Resource Fair. During the event, guests learned about programs and services for tenants and homeowners in Pittsburgh. The Fair provided an opportunity for residents to meet with HOF and URA Housing staff, along with 30 local housing organizations. The celebration, held on the last day of Fair Housing Month, was free, family-friendly and open to the public; 175 people attended.

Project Highlight Parkview Manor
In February 2019, the HOF Advisory Board and URA Board agreed to allocate $200,000 of HOF RGP funds to Oakland Planning and Development Corporation (OPDC) for the renovation of the Parkview Manor affordable living property for seniors and people with disabilities.

The HOF funds will be tied to five units at or below 30% AMI. The building has a Project-Based Section 8 HAP contract. The current tenant portfolio includes 14 residents at or below 30% AMI and 1 at or below 50% AMI.

Project Highlight Mellon’s Orchard
In May 2019, the HOF Advisory Board and URA Board agreed to allocate $690,000 of HOF RGP funds towards East Liberty’s Mellon’s Orchard South. Located at the corner of Station and North Beatty streets, the Mellon’s Orchard South development will feature 37 affordable units and 10 market-rate units. The development will feature a mix of townhouses and apartment-style homes in a variety of size and income levels. Six of the units will be specially designed for residents with mobile and sensory impairments. The total cost of the project is projected to be $13.6 million.

Many federal foundations are pulling back their support for affordable housing, and the HOF makes these projects possible in Pittsburgh.”

With HOF funding, OPDC was able to complete much-needed renovations and repairs, including replacing the roof, replacing the building’s shared hot water tank, installing new windows throughout the entire building, painting the exterior of the building, and the replacement of individual packaged thermal A/C units for each unit.

The HOF funds will be tied to five units at or below 30% AMI. The building has a Project-Based Section 8 HAP contract. The current tenant portfolio includes 14 residents at or below 30% AMI and 1 at or below 50% AMI.

Without the help we received from the HOF, we would have had to sell our house and move. And it would have been devastating. This is our home. This program allowed us to stay in our home, the home that my wife’s family has owned since her grandparents purchased it. I hope they can help so many more people – their help changed our lives.”

“For us, the assistance program was life-changing – we pay half of what we paid in rent in a mortgage.”

Affordable Housing Workshop
In October 2019, the URA hosted a Housing 101 Workshop with URA staff, HOF Advisory Board members, and community partners. Guests speakers include Nora Lichtash from Women’s Community Revitalization Project (WCRP) and Michael Anderson, Director of the Housing Trust Fund Project.
