2019 HOF Highlights 10

Introduction & Mission

The Housing Opportunity Fund (HOF) understands that Pittsburgh is a place where people put down roots. Where vibrant neighborhoods and community connections flourish, but also where housing can struggle to remain affordable and accessible.

Connecting people to homes is essential to support and uplift Pittsburgh neighborhoods, as homeownership encourages people to stay longer, connect to their neighborhoods, take better care of their property, and revitalize disparaged areas. The HOF is a helping hand that funds home repairs, offers a warm handshake that welcomes someone to their first home, or offers assistance programs for partners who share in the common mission of ensuring Pittsburgh remains diverse and becomes affordable for all.

Zero interest loans and grants provided through the HOF make it possible to buy a house for the first time, or help existing homeowners make home repairs. The HOF also works hand-in-hand with partners to construct new affordable housing, and support existing affordable housing providers that need help keeping their communities vibrant, welcoming, and safe.

Pittsburgh is a mosaic of 95 neighborhoods that are each unique and full of character. The HOF is here to help support and enhance Pittsburgh neighborhoods by ensuring affordable housing is accessible, and helping existing homeowners remain in the homes and neighborhoods that mean so much to them.

The HOF understands the deep connections people have with their home, place, and community. Helping people buy a home or stay in a home not only helps support individuals, it also helps support the diverse, friendly, and vibrant city we call home.

Message from the Housing Opportunity Fund Director

In the book Evicted: Poverty and Profit in the American City, Matthew Desmond, a researcher from Harvard, follows eight households in Milwaukee as they struggle to keep and/or find affordable housing. Many of the families faced eviction due to the lack of supports in a housing system that often fails to help the country’s most economically vulnerable residents. In the book, once the families went through an eviction, it became much harder to get back on their feet and find stable, safe, and sanitary housing. This is why programs such as the ones operated by the Housing Opportunity Fund (HOF) are so drastically needed in this country and in the City of Pittsburgh. Through the HOF and other resources, the URA now operates a Housing Stabilization Program that helps people pay their rent for up to three months when faced with a situation where they lose their income. By giving Pittsburgh residents the ability to pay their rent prior to facing an eviction, the residents may be able to stay stably housed and keep their families healthy and safe.

Additionally, the HOF also funds a Homeowner Assistance Program where homeowners can receive loans and grants to repair their homes and stay in their houses for the long-term. The HOF also helps people buy their first home. Did you know that it is often more affordable to pay a monthly mortgage payment than monthly rent? Through the HOF Down Payment and Closing Cost Assistance Program, more people are now learning that they can indeed afford to buy their first home.

Finally, the HOF helps developers and nonprofits build more affordable rental and for-sale homes. By building more homes, the shortage of affordable units in the City is being reduced. If we keep building more affordable units, hopefully, the City will get to a point where no one struggles to find affordable housing or has to experience an eviction. Hopefully, we’ll get to a point where affordable, safe, and sanitary housing is available to all and no one is left out.

- URA Director of Housing Lending & Investments, Jessica Smith Perry

Message from the Mayor

As Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, I am extremely proud of our emphasis on creating and preserving affordable housing for our residents - including the provision of $10M/year from our operating budget to the Housing Opportunity Fund (HOF). Through the HOF programs, Pittsburgh residents now have access to down payment and closing cost assistance to buy their first home, or to make needed home repairs to a home they own. The HOF also is there for renters, helping with rental assistance funding in the event that their monthly income is cut. Additionally, more than 100 units of affordable rental housing in Pittsburgh have been built or are in the process of being built - funded in part by support from the Housing Opportunity Fund.

- Mayor William Peduto

“They have made something possible for us that we couldn’t have done on our own.”

Housing Opportunity Fund Overview

The City of Pittsburgh’s Housing Opportunity Fund (HOF) is a Housing Trust Fund that aims to increase and preserve the supply of safe and well-maintained affordable housing for low-income households in the City. Beginning with its adoption in 2018, the City of Pittsburgh is committing $10 million per year for 12 years to fund affordable housing programs and activities across the City.

HOF legislation states that funds must be allocated at specific Pittsburgh Area Median Income (AMI) levels. AMI levels are measures calculated by HUD that help determine the level of need for a family. AMI is adjusted every year to reflect changes in local income and inflation.

Per HOF legislation, 50% of funds must be allocated towards households at 30% AMI or below, 25% of funds must be allocated towards households at 50% AMI or below, and 25% of funds must be allocated towards households at 80% AMI or below*.

**Down Payment and Closing Cost Assistance Program may go as high as 115% AMI*

How Can the Housing Opportunity Fund Be Used?

Per HOF legislation, the funds may be utilized in the following ways:

- Create and preserve affordable housing for rent and for-sale
- Focus on deed restricted and/or permanently affordable housing
- Expand access for seniors and people with disabilities
- Increase number of affordable homes with supportive services to prevent homelessness
- Stabilize neighborhoods
- Use funds to secure additional monies and identify other opportunities

The Housing Opportunity Fund makes me feel more attached to the city. The fact that someone was willing to say, ‘we’d like you to buy a house here, and we don’t care if you didn’t grow up here, and aren’t from here’ meant a lot to me. It’s heartwarming to feel like Pittsburgh wants us in the community.”

Total Households: 230

Total Affordable Funding: $984,628

The greatest strength of the HOF is its ability to keep people in their homes! In the news, you mostly see the URA doing things for businesses and companies, but they help the individual people that live here and need help, too. My wife grew up six doors down from where we live, and being able to stay in this community means a lot to us. We have deep connections and family history here, and we didn't want to have to sell the house and move, and when we signed the paperwork for the loan, my wife cried. It was very meaningful for us."

Development Programs Overview

Rental Gap Program (RGP)

The RGP helps fund the creation of new affordable housing and/or preserve existing affordable housing in the City of Pittsburgh. RGP loans are available to developers for the creation and/or preservation of affordable units. All development teams must include a nonprofit applicant. During 2019, HOF closed a total of four (4) RGP projects which resulted in the creation and/or preservation of 103 affordable rental units. Of the 4 projects that closed, two were also occupied in 2019: Parkview Manor and Review Towers.

For-Sale Development Program (FSDP)

The FSDP provides low interest rate construction financing and/or grants for the purpose of increasing the supply of affordable housing for homeownership and to eliminate substandard housing. Upon completion, properties financed under the program must be sold to owner-occupants who are at or below 80% AMI. During 2019, a total of two (2) FSDP projects closed resulting in the creation and/or preservation of 7 affordable for-sale homes.

“Over the last year throughout the City of Pittsburgh, the Housing Opportunity Fund has prevented renters from being evicted, created affordable rental and for-sale housing, made it possible for people to buy their first homes, and funded repairs for homeowners who are in need of assistance. It’s a privilege to be on the advisory board of an organization having such a measurable impact on affordable housing in Pittsburgh.”

– Lena Andrews, HOF Advisory Board Member - Non-Profit Community Development Representative

I am grateful for the opportunity to not only have voted to create the Housing Opportunity Fund, I appreciate serving on the Board because the URA has provided a lot of residents the opportunity to become homeowners, including in District 2. Across the entire city, the programs offered by the URA have enhanced the quality of life for our neighborhoods and our residents.”

– Pittsburgh City Council President, Theresa Kail-Smith

2019 HOF Highlights

For the 2019 Annual Report, we talked with people impacted by our programs, and asked them to share their stories, experiences, and perspectives. And what we heard was compelling, thought-provoking, and heartwarming. People are at the heart of our program, and through their eyes we were able to see how the HOF impacts the everyday lives of Pittsburghers. First-time homeowners told us how challenging it can be to afford a home in Pittsburgh, and existing homeowners shared the heavy weight of making repairs to a beloved home that's been in a family for generations. We also learned a little more about the real challenges of building beautiful and supportive affordable housing in a place that's rapidly become more expensive for homebuilders committed to helping our most vulnerable Pittsburgh residents.

Project Highlight Parkview Manor

In February 2019, the HOF Advisory Board and URA Board agreed to allocate $200,000 of HOF RGP funds to Oakland Planning and Development Corporation (OPDC) for the renovation of the Parkview Manor affordable living property for seniors and people with disabilities.

With HOF funding, OPDC was able to complete much-needed renovations and repairs, including replacing the roof, replacing the building's shared hot water tank, installing new windows throughout the entire building, painting the exterior of the building, and the replacement of individual packaged thermal A/C units for each unit.

The HOF funds will be tied to five units at or below 30% AMI. The building has a Project-Based Section 8 HAP contract. The current tenant portfolio includes 14 residents at or below 30% AMI and 1 at or below 50% AMI.

Affordable Housing Workshop

In October 2019, the URA hosted a Housing 101 Workshop with URA staff, HOF Advisory Board members, and community partners. Guests speakers include Nora Lichtash from Women's Community Revitalization Project (WCRP) and Michael Anderson, Director of the Housing Trust Fund Project.

Without the help we received from the HOF, we would have had to sell our house and move. And it would have been devastating. This is our home. This program allowed to us to stay in our home, the home that my wife's family has owned since her grandparents purchased it. I hope they can help so many more people – their help changed our lives.”

– Housing Repair Assistance Homeowner

Housing Celebration and Resource Fair

On April 30, the URA hosted a Housing Celebration and Resource Fair. During the event, guests learned about programs and services for tenants and homeowners in Pittsburgh. The Fair provided an opportunity for residents to meet with HOF and URA Housing staff, along with 30 local housing organizations. The celebration, held on the last day of Fair Housing Month, was free, family-friendly and open to the public; 175 people attended.

Many federal foundations are pulling back their support for affordable housing, and the HOF makes these projects possible in Pittsburgh.”

– Module, Housing Developer

“For us, the assistance program was life-changing - we pay half of what we paid in rent in a mortgage.”

– First-Time Homebuyer

Having things like the HOF rental gap fund encourages owners to make capital improvements to their properties, without passing these extra costs along to their residents.”

– Mellon's Orchard Developer

Project Highlight Mellon's Orchard

In May 2019, the HOF Advisory Board and URA Board agreed to allocate $690,000 of HOF RGP funds towards East Liberty's Mellon's Orchard South. Located at the corner of Station and North Beatty streets, the Mellon's Orchard South development will feature 37 affordable units and 10 market-rate units. The development will feature a mix of townhouses and apartment-style homes in a variety of size and income levels. Six of the units will be specially designed for residents with mobile and sensory impairments. The total cost of the project is projected to be $13.6 million.

The Housing Opportunity Fund is doing great work to ensure residents of any Pittsburgh neighborhood, whether they be renters or homeowners, have just access to affordable housing.

It is a key partner in making sure Pittsburgh will be a city for all."

William Peduto
Mayor

The Housing Opportunity Fund is keeping Pittsburgh home. Its success will help us stop push-out, preserve and protect access to affordable housing, and promote equitable growth across the city. It's a critical part of making Pittsburgh truly livable for all."

Sam Williamson
Chair of the URA Board

I WAS SITTING on my porch on a Friday evening when my son's 11-year old friend came up my steps and said "I hear you help build homes for people who don't have a place to live. I saved $50 from my allowance and want to give it to you to help build someone a house. Everyone should have a place to live." Out of the mouth of a child.

It's so simple but so true. Everyone should have a place to live. In fact, everyone should have a place to live that is safe, healthy and warm. But for some reason, not everyone in America, including in Pittsburgh, is able to avail themselves of this most fundamental basic right to sleep in a warm, safe place.

Fortunately, in Pittsburgh we have a local government that recognizes that almost 20,000 extremely low-income households either do not have a home or are at extreme risk of housing instability. In 2018, Mayor Peduto and City Council approved $10 million per year for 12 years of City operating funds to support affordable housing activities.

Through the Housing Opportunity Fund (HOF), the senior citizen who is living on a monthly social security check will now be able to get much-needed repairs done to his or her house. The mom who works two jobs to make ends meet will now be able to go to a social service provider and get short-term, partial rental assistance if she gets sick and is temporarily unable to work. The family of six who needs a rent-subsidized unit but is on the wait list for five different buildings now has a greater chance of moving up the list. And the young professional who just landed his or her first job will receive down payment assistance to buy his or her first home.

Through the HOF, we will be able to help approximately 525 Pittsburgh households a year. With the 2018 funds, we hope to build or rehabilitate 100 units of new or preserved rental housing, repair/renovate 100 existing owner-occupied homes, help provide rental assistance to approximately 186 households, create 14 units of new or rehabbed for-sale housing stock, and help 125 families purchase their first home. Additionally, in 2019, the HOF will receive another year of funding which will help another 500-600 households.

I am very proud of the HOF Advisory Board and the HOF staff who worked tirelessly to create an allocation plan and structure program requirements that will help as many people as possible. Through the Advisory Board and staff's diligence, and the hard work of many others in the government, philanthropic, nonprofit, financial, and advocacy sectors, together as a city we can hear hammers pounding in Pittsburgh neighborhoods; and if we listen very closely, hear children quietly snoring in their safe and warm homes.

Jessica Smith Perry

At Lawrenceville Corporation, we are working aggressively to address our region's housing shortage and locational gaps. We view the Housing Opportunity Fund as an integral fuel—focused, generous, and aspirational investments--that will allow us to bring high-quality permanently affordable homeownership solutions to Pittsburgh at scale."

Establishing the Housing Opportunity Fund (HOF)

In 2015, an Affordable Housing Task Force was established by the City to study the affordable housing needs in Pittsburgh. The Task Force put forth the recommendation that an Affordable Housing Trust Fund be established which resulted in the creation of the Housing Opportunity Fund.

The City of Pittsburgh's HOF is a Housing Trust Fund that aims to increase and preserve the supply of decent, safe, and sanitary affordable housing for low-income households. The City of Pittsburgh is committing $10 million per year for the next 12 years to fund HOF programs and activities.

“ I am proud of the progress that we made over the past year. We listened to what residents wanted to see happen, came together as a team to decide where to dedicate funds, and the URA staff was able to create and craft new programs and guidelines based on these recommendations. We have laid a ton of groundwork and are already starting to see some of the impact!”

“ The Housing Opportunity Fund is fundamentally and permanently changing lives in our communities. Our most vulnerable neighbors can finally stay in the neighborhoods they’ve always called home. How were the 2018 HOF programs created?

Pittsburgh United conducted five public meetings in the North, South, East, West, and Central areas of the City in 2018 and received feedback to help determine funding priorities. The critical needs identified were:

- Home repairs for extremely low-income homeowners
- Deeply affordable rental units with accompanying supportive services
- Programs to expand homeownership
- Short-term/emergency rental assistance
- Rehabilitation of vacant and abandoned housing stock for resale to homeowners

To address these needs, the following programs were created for 2018.

HOF 2018 Programs

- Rental Gap Program (RGP)
The RGP funds the creation and/or preservation of affordable rental units in the City of Pittsburgh.
- Homeowner Assistance Program (HAP)
The HAP provides financial assistance up to $30,000 to eligible homeowners in the City for the rehabilitation and improvement of residential owner-occupied properties.
- Housing Stabilization Program (HSP)
The HSP provides emergency rental assistance to households in the City. The HSP also allows for legal eviction prevention services.
- For-Sale Development Program (FSDP)
The FSDP provides low interest rate construction financing and/or grants for the purpose of increasing the supply of affordable housing for homeownership in the City.
- Down Payment and Closing Cost Assistance Program (DPCCAP)
The DPCCAP provides financial assistance up to $7,500 to income eligible first-time homebuyers in the City.
